The legend tells of 13 crystal skulls, the same size and shape as human skulls, but made of pure crystal. Left behind by our earlier ancestors far back in the mists of time, these crystal skulls were said to be a source of great knowledge and wisdom. They were said to contain information about our past history of the planet and the future of mankind. The legend also prophesied that one day, at a time of great crisis for all humanity, 13 crystal skulls would be rediscovered and unify themselves together again to reveal information vital to the very survival of the human race.
